NET-TAC QE Collaboration. The VRTAC-QE asked the CSAVR-NET to lead a national Learning Community (LC) focused on developing a VR Business Relations Blueprint. Harley Engelmann is the CSAVR-NET lead. The LC was established in May 2023 with a targeted completion date of April 2024. 18 VR professionals were selected from applicants representing a cross-section of State VR agencies (SVRAs). They are collaborating on three respective work groups. The work groups objectives are aligned with the CSAVR objectives. The work groups are:

1. Leadership/Structure
2. Effective Policies/Best Practices
3. Branding/Messaging

The output of this LC will help inform and shape the effective delivery of services to business and enhance quality employment outcomes under the dual customer approach. The LC will generate a report to the CSAVR Career and Business Relations Committee for distribution to CSAVR and NET members.

The report will provide SVRA directors with a snapshot of the status, structure, operational approach, and branding of SVRA business service units across the country.

Windmills Train the Trainer: Four-Part Series, January 16, 18, 23 and 25 2024.

CSAVR/NET – DisabilityIN Collaboration NextGen Leaders Program.

Disability: IN has been a collaborator with the VR-NET on the NextGen

Leadership program for several years. The goal is to support the participation of VR candidates and their employment outcomes. [The Disability:IN NextGen Leaders Program \[disabilityin.org\]](https://disabilityin.org) is a six-month virtual mentoring program for college students and recent graduates with disabilities that is free to participating mentees. Participants are matched one-on-one with mentors from Disability:IN Corporate Partners like Google, Walmart, Microsoft, Northrup Grumman, and Pfizer. Candidates from the Virtual Mentoring Program can apply to participate in the NextGen Talent Accelerator which includes attendance at the Disability:IN conference. The details of both programs and the cost for the NextGen Talent Accelerator are provided below.

The NextGen Leadership Program has 2 components:

Free Virtual Mentoring Program:

- Meet virtually twice a month for six months with a corporate mentor.
- Participate in monthly professional development webinars.
- Receive notifications of various job opportunities with corporate partners throughout the year via a Job Opportunity Digest.
- Attend annual Internship Showcase where top companies supply information and answer questions on how to obtain internships.

NextGen Talent Accelerator:

- Build NextGen Leaders' professional skills for the private employment sector.
- Help businesses find talented individuals with disabilities to hire.
- Secure interview and networking opportunities with [Disability:IN Corporate Partners \[disabilityin.org\]](https://disabilityin.org)
- Collaborate with other NextGen Leaders as part of the Innovation Lab design competition.
- Increase NextGen Leader confidence as job and internship seekers.

Results from the 2023 NextGen Leadership Class – VR Candidates-

2023 NextGen Leadership class was the largest ever with 384 participants – 103 of whom indicated they have a VR counselor. Additionally, 22 of our NextGen Leaders who work with a VR counselor were selected to participate in the NextGen Talent Accelerator which was an in-person, immersive development program that took place at the Disability:IN Global Conference & Expo. 12 VR candidates gained employment since they participated in the NextGen Leadership Program.

In 2024, NextGen Leaders can apply to attend the Disability: IN 2024 Conference on July 13-18 in Las Vegas, NV. If accepted, there is a $3000 fee for conference for Vocational Rehabilitation participants, this assists with offsetting some of the cost of the program. This amount includes the cost to participate in the conference including all meals, accessibility features and reasonable accommodations, as well as five nights hotel lodging and ground transportation.

2024 NextGen Applications are open now until January 12, 2024:

Fun Sports Fact

Football and the Links to the Deaf Community. The football huddle was an accommodation developed at Gallaudet University. In 1894, the Gallaudet football team was playing against another deaf team. Paul Hubbard, the quarterback, didn't want to risk the other team seeing him use American Sign Language (ASL) to explain the play to his teammates, so he asked them to form a tight circle formation, now known as a huddle.

In the football game between the Dallas Cowboys and the Seattle Seahawks on November 30th we saw DK Metcalf, a wide receiver for the Seahawks signing in the end zone after completing a touchdown. He has been taking ASL. Metcalf shared that after being penalized for comments he made verbally; he is switching to sign language.
