Reasons for heightened scrutiny:

- The setting is located in or attached to a building that is also a nursing home/facility or hospital.
- The agency owns or operates multiple settings located on the same street/bock as this setting.

The Boulder Meadows Assisted Living Facility (ALF), Pioneer Medical Center, Critical Access Hospital with Emergency Room (CAH/ER) and Pioneer Medical Clinic, Rural Health Clinic (RHC) are all housed within the same block and owned by the same entity. The Boulder Meadows ALF is located in Big Timber, Montana. Big Timber reports a population of approximately 1,650. Big Timber is a rural community situated in Sweet Grass County. It is located midway between Billings (82 miles away) and Bozeman (62 miles away).

The ALF is located within a wing of a building that is attached to a hospital. The ALF is separated from the CAH/ER and RHC by hallways and doors. Each entity has its own distinct main entrance. The setting resides in a residential area. The general public can walk and bike on the roads surrounding the setting. A bus is available through the Hospitality House/Senior Center to pick up residents for visits on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. The bus is reserved on Thursdays for trips out of town for appointments/shopping trips to Livingston, Billings or Bozeman.

Inside the ALF, meals are served at set times daily, with breakfast being made to order of their choosing, lunch is two options plus soup of the day and/or salad bar options, supper includes a main option, or several other options if main option is not of their liking (this is soon to include two main options, plus other options). Members may choose to eat in their apartment, food of their own choosing, or to have a served meal supplied to them by staff. The setting offers privacy to members while using telephone, internet or other personal communication devices. Both single and double occupancy rooms are available. When sharing a room, members have the ability to choose their roommate. Room decorations and furniture are arranged at the discretion of the member. Members have the freedom to set their own daily routines for things such as hygiene, care delivery, recreation and meals. The facility provides members the opportunity to purchase Grab & Go Specials such as lattes, frappes, breakfast burrito bar and fresh fruit and vegetable baskets.

Providers are required to comply with Montana’s waiver regulations, and specifically provider requirements with the regulations. The setting is physically accessible to members and the general public. Members are able to enter and leave the facility at their convenience. For member security, the facility doors are locked at 7:00 p.m., but the member may ring the button at any time to gain admission. Chairs in the vestibule are available for members to rest as needed. The ALF encourages family and friends to visit members. The ALF encourages family involvement with the member and provides ample opportunities for family participation in activities at the facility. The facility does not have restricted visiting hours. In special situations, guests over 18 may stay a limited number of nights. There is a written admissions agreement that offers responsibilities/protections from eviction for members. Members can lock their room as well as lock their bathroom door for privacy. Staff knock on the door and/or ring a doorbell for access to the member’s private room. The setting is arranged to ensure privacy during personal care. Staff and volunteers receive training and continuing education related to member’s rights upon new hire and reviewed yearly; other rules are reviewed quarterly. Members are provided with information about his/her rights in plain language and have a process available to them to file a grievance if they believe their rights have been violated.

Members in this setting are not required to receive medical, behavioral or therapy services on-site; many residents choose to go to providers in Billings and/or the VA hospital to receive medical care.

The facility’s calendar of events is available for members which includes activities such as bingo, music, trivia, exercise, puzzles/word games, refreshments, pie socials, parties and various groups such as reading and reminiscence.
